The observable Universe from Earth contains billions of galaxies each one with billions of stars.

Civilizations on Earth are not ready for the exploration of the Universe.

Peace in the world and Earth management have for far too long been in the hands of a few people on the planet, the 1%.

I am Soullife, God's Spirit.

Pollution is global and already found in critical proportions in water, air and land.

Everyone on the planet needs to take responsibility to protect life.

The dirty tar sands oil of Alberta, Canada, is fuelling war machines, the war industry and the military.

It is the use of bi-products from the refining of the dirty tar sands oil that truly causes destruction on a global scale.

Let us stop the pollution and destruction brought forward by the dirty tar sands oil of Alberta.

Let us take a close look at what comes out of the pipelines carrying the dirty tar sands oil.

See what we find: pollution and bi-products use for destruction.

Tell Canada, the United States and China to stop production today.

Planet Earth will be so much better without the dirty tar sands oil.

Look! There are two scenarios of what will happen for using the dirty tar sands oil of Alberta to pollute and destroy the planet, the Global Community.

The first scenario shows you what most people think will happen. And at the very end here, in the second scenario, I will show you what will really happen if we continue using the dirty tar sands oil of Alberta.

The first scenario shows you only fringes of a truly bad future the next generations will have to endure.

As you see here on the following pictures, future generations will have to wear masks over their faces for breathing to protect against the pollution caused by the use of the dirty tar sands oil of Alberta. Every human activity will be subjected to wearing masks.

Conservatives and Republicans will tell you oh but that is good it will create jobs, a new business will make specialized masks.

Technology will not advanced fast enough to resolve problems of global warming, an after effect of using the dirty tar sands oil of Alberta. Global warming happens now, and there plenty of natural disasters happening right now in the world to give you a glimpse of what is coming sooner than predicted. Global warming happens much faster!

The second scenario is what humanity will truly suffer. Do you see any life here? Do you? This is the pathway you are on right now because of using the dirty tar sands oil of Alberta: pollution and destruction all over the planet.

Pollution is not the only result of bad governance and the erratic management of Earth. At the source of it all is the energy sector of the planet. What is fuelling these bad human behaviors is the dirty tar sands oil and the wealth this fossil fuel and bi-products bring to the CEOs and shareholders, the 1%.

What we need to understand is that pollution is not just destroying the global life support systems but it is the use of the bi-products from the refining of the dirty tar sands oil that truly causes destruction on a global scale. The dirty tar sands oil is a very special type of heavy oil from which bi-products can be manufactured for the only purpose of war.

The dirty tar sands oil is fuelling war machines, the war industry and the military. It is a living insanity. The abundance of oil has so far propelled governments, especially the United States and Great Britain governments, to manufacture astronomically high number of war products. Oil by-products are used to make the war machine more polluting and are destructive worldwide.
